Two quick words to say “See you” in Polish. I’d say this is the most popular informal way to say bye, and people in Poland use it often. It’s informal, you can use it with friends. Though girls like to say [Pa] and guys use more [Na razie]. But, it doesn’t really matter, it’s okay if you use both.

5. See you in Polish

- See you later
- Do zobaczenia
- Pronounced: Do zhobachenya

Learn Polish Phrases

See you later
Do zobaczenia
Pronounced: Do zhobachenya

pdf-language-lessons.com

You can say this phrase to anybody because it sounds polite, but young people rather say [Na razie] than [Do zobaczenia]. If you want to show courtesy by saying “see you later,” add “later” – “później.” As a result, we have [Do zobaczenia później] – in English, it’s pronounced as: Do zhobache:nya pushniey.

6. See ya in Polish

- See ya
- Do zoba
- Pronounced: Do zoba

Learn Polish Phrases

See ya
Do zoba
Pronounced: Do zoba

{Do zobaczenia} is polite, so we need to follow up with something casual. In Poland, that young people like to use their own slang; that they make shorter versions of proper words/phrases. Instead of [Do zobaczenia] they just say [Do zoba].

7. See you tomorrow

- See you tomorrow
- Do jutra
- Pronounced: Do you-tra

Learn Polish Phrases

See you tomorrow
Do jutra
Pronounced: Do you-tra
